New Industrial Education Department Set at Fair

INDIO — Students of Riverside County schools who win in the Industrial Education Department of the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival here Feb. 14-23 will take home special awards worth hundreds of dollars in addition to the usual fair prizes, it was disclosed today in plans announced by Manager R. M.C. Fullenwider. Hoping to encourage broader interest in the industrial arts, prominent industrialists of this section are offering many valuable prizes to be awarded over and beyond the customary cash awards.

KEN NICHOLS, head of a Riverside tool company, is chairman of a special committee arranging for the industrial cooperation with the Date Festival program aimed at the school students.

The Industrial Education Department, now in its third year, is one of the fastest growing of the entire Date Festival. The first year it recorded 120 entries. Last year this zoomed to 450 entries. And now Walter Allman of the County Schools Department, coordinator for the section is anticipating another major increase in interest this year.

AWARDS TO BE made on behalf of the manufacturers and businessmen will be in the form of equipment, materials and tools in line with the separate hobbies being pursued by the winning students. In this way they hope to broaden the field of interest and scope of activities.

Competition in the Date Festival Industrial Education section is limited to students in Riverside County Schools starting with the seventh grade and ending with the second year of Junior College. All projects must have been made in schools under the supervision of an Industrial Arts or Trade and Industrial instructors, and must have been completed within the past 12 months. No exhibits arranged from kits are eligible.

Exhibits may be entered in 14 divisions: architectural drawing, ceramics, electrical, graphic arts, jewelry, leather, machine shop, mechanical drawing, models, patternmaking and molding, plastics, wood, metal and miscellaneous. Many of these divisions have several separate classes. For example, metal division has these classes: wrought copper, silver, brass and pewter; wrought aluminum, wrought iron, welding, metal furniture and other metal craft.

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA fans, more than 350 strong, are shown having lunch at the Chi Chi Restaurant Monday on a side trip to Palm Springs and the desert. Law Procedure Must Be Solved By Legislature

New taxes and the continuing problem of water will be the two most controversial matters in the 1959 California Legislature, Assemblyman Lee Backstrand forecast yesterday.

But the 71st District representative said that equally important will be the evolution of procedure to handle the change in laws occasioned by the dropping of the "legislative recess."

BACKSTRAND SAID that new rules will be needed to work out details of the changeover in procedure.

"A joint committee has already developed some recommendations for such rules," the assemblyman said.

What to do with the first 30 days of the session (under the new law, no bills may be acted upon during that period) may be remedied by having interim committees hold final hearings and prepare reports.

"SINCE ALL members of both houses will be in Sacramento," Backstrand observed, "This could easily be arranged."

Orientation of new members, committee assignments and organization of officer positions are first items for legislative attention, Backstrand said, but added that the state's budget and water problems are sure to come up for discussion immediately.

"The sad shape of the general fund and the unhappy prospect of new or higher taxes to put it in shape again will, of course, be a matter of prime concern to every legislator," he said.

He said that interim committees had "not succeeded in making much progress" in finding a solution to the water problem and said a north-south split "as wide as in 1957 and 1958" would probably continue.

Polaris Missile Fired by Navy

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The Navy's Polaris missile, designed to be fired from submerged submarines, rocketed off to a clear Florida sky today but the second stage had to be destroyed after about a minute and a half when it veered from its planned course.

However, a Navy spokesman called the launching "a partial success" since it was the first time a Polaris with both stages had been fired. Also, the two stages separated during flight, which was one of the main tests in today's launching.

Lonely Democrat

BISMARCK, N. D. — (UPI) — Only one Democrat has ever been elected to Congress from North Dakota since territorial days.

He was John Moses who served as governor from 1939 until 1945 and was elected to the U.S. senate in 1944 but died three months after taking office.

The population of Iceland is about 160,000.

Dear Abby...

... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: If I told you how much my husband and I wanted a baby you wouldn't believe it. We've both been going to doctors for 8 years and they say there is absolutely nothing wrong with either one of us. We've tried every suggestion we've ever heard of from friends and doctors, but so far no luck. My doctor says there is only one thing left for me to try and that is having all my teeth pulled. I never had any trouble with my teeth and I am only 27. But if that's causing my trouble I am willing to do it. Have you ever heard that this would help? Let me know right away as I'm waiting to hear.

WANTING A FAMILY
DEAR WANTING: I don't know what kind of doctor you are presently consulting, but I urge you NOT to have all your teeth pulled until you have seen another doctor. Ask your American Medical Association to recommend a specialist for your difficulty.

DEAR ABBY: I like a boy from school and he is 15 and I am 14. He asked if he could see me sometime and I said sure if he would come to my house. He said he wouldn't come to my house. But he would meet me anywhere else I said. My mother doesn't like me to meet boys she has never seen. What should I do? FOURTEEN
DEAR FOURTEEN: Tell him if he won't come to your house like a gentleman, you can't see him.

If he doesn't come, consider yourself lucky.

DEAR ABBY: Will you help an 83-year-old widow? I have no children, and only one nephew and several cousins but none of them have bothered to visit me in years. I have a neighbor who comes in to see me every day and I feel free to call on her any hour of the day or night. She's always bringing me goodies she has made and I don't know what I'd do without her. So what little money I have I would like to leave to my neighbor, but friends tell me that any over 80 is not of sound mind, according to the law, and kinfolks automatically come first. Is this correct, Dear Abby?

OVER 80 BUT SOUND MIND
DEAR OVER: "Soundness of mind is not determined by age. Ask a lawyer or call your local Legal Aid Society."

DEAR ABBY: I have mother-in-law trouble! My husband and I have been married for 13 years. We have three lovely children. After she visits us (which is often) I find clippings from newspapers and magazines on how to raise children and how to work out marriage problems. I find these clippings in my drawers and on top of the refrigerator. She doesn't hand them to me, she just puts them around my house. I found one yesterday that just burned me up. I was going to mail it back to her, but thought I would ask for your advice first.

FED-UP
DEAR FED: Say nothing and ignore the clippings. When she finds that she is getting no reaction whatever from you, she'll give up.

DEAR ABBY: I am 45 and have been going with this man for four months. He is 50. Is it right for a woman to tell a man friend what she wants for gifts or should he be of his own choosing? He suggested I name several things I would like and he would surprise me with one.

PROPER LADY
DEAR PROPER: Suggest a "few things" to be helpful—but be sure they are in the price range that suits his purse.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to that man who bought his wife a cemetery plot for her anniversary gift when she was expecting a sewing machine: I think it was the most heartless thing he could have done.

Huge Atlas Puts America Ahead in World Space Race

With the mighty 8800 pound Atlas satellite orbiting around the earth, America has regained convincing leadership over Russia in the space race.

Within slightly more than a year from the time the first Sputnik was launched by the Soviets, the United States now holds all three of the major records for top scientific achievement.

We have successfully orbited the greatest number of satellites, we have attained the highest distance, and, now we have the largest and heaviest in orbit. It is also probable that the United States holds the record for greatest speed and most distance for missiles, the two moon "shots" reaching a velocity of nearly 24,000 miles per hour and attaining some 76,000 miles above the earth.

Most significant success is that of the 85-foot Atlas, which is of sufficient size and weight to demonstrate that we are rapidly approaching the ability to launch a space vehicle capable of controlled flight and return to earth by man. This, of course, is the ultimate goal in the race for supremacy in outer space.

Meanwhile, although the Russians cloak their activities in strictest secrecy except for the announcement of their successes, it is certain that they are diligently striving to spring a new surprise of some nature as soon as possible.

Best indications are that while several attempts have resulted in failure, they may manage to hurl some unusual object aloft or try to set a new speed and distance record soon. Either, or both, are badly needed by the Reds in the near future to keep their world propaganda efforts in high gear.

While we have a comfortable lead for the present in all departments of the space contest, we must continue improvements and new developments at top speed, and none should be dismayed if the Soviets take the lead from time to time in certain divisions as the race continues.

It is not so much a question of who is first as who does the best all-around job which counts most in the end.

Highest Standards in the World

WASHINGTON, D. C. — May be it's the truth-telling influence of George Washington and Abe Lincoln. Anyhow, a returned traveler is apt to feel proudly that the USA remains just about the only nation on earth whose foreign representatives customarily shun the Big Lie technique.

This virtue in America is often, I realize, called a vice by those who consider their country "naive" and wish it were more "wordly" in global affairs. But the American distinction as a truth-teller sets us apart in a manner that must be very influential with that portion of the world's people who think about it. By way of contrast, if there's any justice at all, official lying ought to catch up with some of its practitioners.

KING MOHAMMED V of Morocco recently made one of those standard speeches to the effect that he wanted the United States Air Force bases dismantled and the Americans brought home. Shame on this royal provocator! He knows, and it is table talk in diplomatic circles, that he would be the most disappointed monarch under a crown if the Americans took him at his word.

Closing the airfields would leave a hole in the regal purse that no other source of income could patch. Once I was visiting one of the great North African bases at a time of a slight cut-back in funds. A number of Muslim day workers had to be laid off for lack of money. Their pointing and skulking was reminding of a prep school where the candy allowance had been stopped.

SO WHAT WAS the King up to? Well, he was playing hard-to-get so as to drive a better bargain for rental of his desert sands. And he was strutting before the Muslim nationalists who have a genuine crush on their own nation. Still, the King was telling a powerful whopper. Machiavelli might have approved it, but not Washington and Lincoln.

Another official attitude wouldn't get past the lie detector is the one being struck by the Algerian separatists. In Paris, I lately had dinner with a young Algerian Army officer, a wearer of the coveted French liberation ribbon, who had just been elected to the French Assembly. And his platform? It was integration of Algeria and France.

THIS MAN AND many others were elected for the basic reason that a majority of Algerians, although eager for the best possible bargaining position, realize that their economic interests are within the French Union.

It is true that the stupidity and cruelty of French military repression has caused hatred of the central government (much as Southerners hated the Reconstruction government). However, the go-it-alone sentiment in Algeria is loud but not strong. And the idea that the Algerians would prefer Nasser to Charles de Gaulle is as false as can be.

BRITISH DEFENSE Minister Duncan Sandys, Sir Winston Churchill's son-in-law, is another politico who plays the game a little off-center. The informed talk in Europe is that Sandys is "running" for Prime Minister on the platform of revitalizing the British financial position.

To do this, he wants to cut the British commitment to NATO. In order to cut down on NATO, he must argue that the danger of a Russian thrust in West Europe is lessening and that missiles can substantially replace men on guard.

BUT IT IS difficult to believe that any informed statesman thinks that the Russians will not rush into the vacuum. If any European statesman believes that missiles and planes have removed the need of ground troops, he is making an argument that would permit the United States to pull its troops out of Europe. No European would go that far.

Now at the risk of seeming stuffy, I think there is a discernible difference between their way of practicing foreign relations and ours. Much as most Americans would like to bring their boys home from Europe, and popular as such a plan would be, you no longer hear it bruited in political campaigns. Why not? Because it is plainly dishonest.

IT IS SIMPLY untrue that the Russians are not an active menace and that they would remain immobile and docile if the NATO shield were removed. True, the population of West Europe is larger than ours, and the threatened countries ought to be manning their own ramparts. But so smarted are the entanglements, and so relentless is the foe, that we are stuck with the defense of Europe. Few if any campaigning politicians are untruthful enough to say otherwise.

The Moroccans and Algerians are not the only ones with strong nationalist feelings. We in America still have emotions which could be whipped up by demagogues with inflammatory speeches against our allies. But it is inconceivable that President Eisenhower would do what King Mohammed did about the air bases. He likes his popularity. Of late he has had almost none.

BUT IT IS BEYOND imagination that he or Herbert Hoover, Harry Truman, Adlai Stevenson or Thomas Dewey — each having been President or a presidential candidate — would buy popularity with falsehood. To find a really demagogic example of basing a friendly foreigner, one must go back more than 30 years to Big Bill Thompson and his campaign to keep King George out of Chicago.

What I'm saying is that American standards in international dealings are high — the highest in the world. This was true when Herbert Hoover and Robert Taft tried to keep us from the mistakes which now haunt us.

THE HIGH-MINDEDNESS continues today when we are trying to make the best of those wretched blunders. But for honesty, for honorable efforts to keep the peace and to find areas of agreement among our friends, the United States has little to be ashamed of, and much in which to take pride.

If we ever do win the Cold War, we will have won it the right way. —Holmes Alexander

The Desert Sun

May we say "thanks" for your fine editorial in The Desert Sun last Friday, Dec. 19, commenting on talking more and more about our fine weather when telephoning or writing our friends and business contacts in other parts of the country.

I'm certain that, is everyone in the community followed this practice, it couldn't help but bring an awareness of our wonderful weather to countless thousands all over the nation and result in more business for all.

In line with your suggestion that next year our "thermometer" rubber stamp be made available to persons mailing their Christmas cards, may I say we shall do exactly that. We have already ordered three dozen extra rubber stamps and will loan them out the same as a library book for people to take home and use on their mail, then return to us upon completion. We may even ask the "Pinafore Girls" at the High School to volunteer some hand labor to encourage further participation along these lines.

Incidentally, for business people in the area, we have extra stamps on hand now at cost, $3.64. All they have to do is call the Chamber of Commerce to place an order.

Thank you again for your interest in helping us publicize Palm Springs.

Sincerely,
JIMMY COOPER,
Manager, Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

Soon the Countdown Begins

Now to shout to you the season's greetings:

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

When you think of the progress we have made, it is truly amazing. For years and years, your ancestors did not know when it was New Year's Eve.

They had to get along without tin whistles and paper hats. Dance bands, vintage champagne, aspirin and Milkshakes.

THEY COULD NOT even sing "For Auld Lang Syne." Because they did not know how auld it was. There were no electric lights and therefore the times were called the Dark Ages.

Since nobody really knew when to celebrate the New Year, they sat around ALL year drinking mead. Hoping in this way they were hitting the right day somewhere along the line.

You can get mead at the Elizabeth Room in the Gore Hotel in London.

It will never replace the dry martini.

IN MERRY England, they celebrated New Year's Day on March 25. The natives painted themselves blue.

The Egyptians and Phoenicians said New Year's came on September 21.

The Romans said it came on December 21.

EVERYBODY FIDDED this way and that way until the Gregorian Calendar was invented. Then they knew what day was New Year's.

This happened in 1582. But England did not believe it until 1751.

The English are cautious people.

"HE WHO DRINKS fast pays slow." This was written by Benjamin Franklin, probably after New Year's Eve.

It is my opinion that Ben was a gay blade in his day. Instead of flying kites, he should have invented aspirin.

WELL, I HAVE made no startling plans for this evening of frolic and fun.

The varnished hats and paper whistles are laid beside each plate in the big hotels. The dance bands are tuning up and the champagne is icing in the silver buckets.

I am undecided whether to nip out to this gayety. Or sit home and paint myself blue.

BLUE PAINT IS rather inexpensive. If you are trying to figure something in the way of an old-fashioned New Year's Eve, invite the neighbors.

Break open a gallon of paint. Let them paint themselves blue.

IF YOU GO OUT this evening, be sure to bring home the paper hat and the whistles for the children.

I recall finding these fascinating favors in the hall. You put on the hat and took the whistle. You went in the bedroom where everybody was sleeping and you BLEW! WAAAAAAH "HAPPY NEW YEAR!" "Go outside and blow!"

FAMILIES ARE not much fun on New Year's Day in the morning.

You took the whistle outside and found a lot of other kids with THEIR hats and whistles. You blew and hollered, "Happy New Year!"

And all over the block, you could hear windows being closed with a crash and slam.

SO WE COME to the end of the old year. The calendar leaves snowing from the office windows in the big buildings downtown. The evening lights coming on cheerily in the early dark.

Already the radio is bringing New Year's Eve from faraway lands.

It is the New Year already in Manila. New Year in Rome. New Year in England. And, before you know it, New Year here.

EARL WILSON:

Kim Met Guy On Escalator

NEW YORK — Kim Novak told me this story, so of course I know it's true.

She went shopping at Bloomingdale's with an escort from Columbia Pictures and, while on an escalator, she noticed her escort talking to a young man also on the escalator. Kim said to her escort, "He's an awfully attractive man — who is he?" Her escort replied, "Kim, may I introduce you to your husband?" That, so everybody swears, is how Kim met Lee Phillips, whose wife she plays in "Middle of the Night."

Was I embarrassed! Opening at the Waldorf, Eartha Kitt stared unwaveringly at me, sitting there on the ringside, as she sang, "Ain't Misbehavin' (I'm Saving My Love for You)" — even when she started to peel off things. Eartha is great and she's so thin that it seemed believable when she said, "This dress is too tight for me tonight — I ate a peanut."

Shelley Winters, who used to sing, is going to sing again when she auditions for the Marlene Dietrich role in "Destry Rides Again" — and, by coincidence, John Ireland, who was her boy friend when she was a singer, is also going to audition for the Broadway version. . . . Walter Slezak (whose "Gazebo" got good notices) says concerning the newspaper strike: "Our show is an anonymous hit."

George de Witt tells of the husband who came home and found his wife in the embrace of a strange man. "What are you doing?" he asked. The faithless wife turned to the strange man and said, "Didn't I tell you he was stupid?"

Esther Williams' ex, Ben Gage, is making his acting debut on "Maverick" (ABC TV) Jan. 11. He plays a marshal in "Gunshy," a spoof of "Gunsmoke," written by Marion Hargrove. . . . Ava Gardner sighed, "Thank heavens for the N.Y. newspaper strike. No reporters are bothering me."

From Ketchum, Idaho, Mrs. Ernest Heringway writes: "Love from Idaho — land of the beautiful and delectable duck, the wily pheasant, the shy partridge and the fleet — Oh, so fleet deer — (but I got one last week on a mountaintop). Papa is in great shape — writing and shooting very sharp."

Forecast: Gwen Verdon will do one of the great dance routines of all time in "Redhead" (now in New Haven en route to B'way.) In a number called "Essie's Vision," she imagines she's a great dancer — for 25 minutes of music hall routines; one of the longest dances ever undertaken. . . . A B'wayite summed up Frank Sinatra this way: "He's not husband material." . . . A visitor at a Jewish home wondered why there wasn't a mezzuzah over the doorway. "Oh," explained the head of the house, "we've got a master mazzuzah on the roof."

The Midnight Earl. . . . Thanks to TV taping, the Peter Lind Hayeses can spend New Year's week in Jamaica while their show goes on each day as though they were at the studio. . . . Whisper in medical circles: "They've got the maternity pill; it's just a matter of time before announcing it." . . . Cecil B. DeMille's son-in-law's "Buccaneer" picture is excellent, but friends wish C.B. hadn't lost so much weight. . . . CBS will bump off half a dozen big TV shows early in '59.

Sgt. Bilko's gang gave a party at Sardi's for Paul Ford, their "commanding officer" when he opened in "Hoop-Up" on B'way, and "Pvt. Doberman" (Maurice Gosfield) was with glamour gal Virginia de Luce, who was looking extraordinarily pretty. "But then," said Doberman, "sitting beside me, anybody would look extraordinarily pretty."

Earl's Pearls: A boy friend, told Taft Tuttle he didn't go to college because he didn't have the entrance fee, and she said, "Oh, you mean you didn't have the tuition?"

Wish I'd Said That: "The trouble with antiques is that their prices are so modern" — English Digest.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Monkey on Shoulder

HOLLYWOOD — The camera didn't show that "monkey on his back" (dope addiction) in Frank Sinatra's "Men with the Golden Arm." But the role of Frankie's pal in his next movie, "Never So Few," will be played by a monkey who perches on his shoulder through every frame of the footage.

MGM's Big One for '59 will be a remake of Edna Ferber's silent screen smash, "Cimarron." No kin to TV's successful Cimarron City series. And the oldie, incidentally, co-starred Irene Dunne and the late Richard Dix.

LIZ TAYLOR and Monty Clift phoned Jerry Wald and pleaded with him to give them the leading romantic roles of F. Scott Fitzgerald and his lady-friend columnist in "Beloved Infidel."

Producer John Wildberg latched Lori Nelson and Brod Crawford for the top spots in his dramatization of Red Quinlan's book about what goes on behind the TV cameras, "The Merger."

Comedienne Connie Gilchrist's best scenes as the town drunk in "Some Came Running" ended on the cutting room floor in favor of more footage for the stars—Sinatra, Shirley MacLaine, Dean Martin and Martha Hyer. But Connie more than makes up for it with her comic capers as Roz Russell's Irish-bred maid from Chicago in "Auntie Mame."

THE GOOD WILL holiday spirit prevailed with Paul Douglas, Jerry Lewis and Jay C. Flippen. They headed a Hollywood contingent that drove out to Pasadena to wish the ailing Ted Husing a Happy New Year.

Irene Dunne's husband, Dr. Francis Griffin, is ailing too, and that's why Irene showed up solo at Mrs. Louis B. Mayer's annual Christmas party in the Beverly Hills Hotel's Crystal Room.

Jerry Lewis was well enough to attend Mrs. Mayer's party too. In fact, he came right over from the Eddie Fisher show, on which he subbed for Dean Martin. And when somebody told Jerry about the headlines in which Dean lashed out at him for doing the show free (Dean turned it down, he claimed, when Eddie wouldn't meet his price), Jerry smiled vaguely and shrugged it off with, "Who's Dean Martin?"

I'M USUALLY suspicious when a studio ties up two of its young contractees as a twosome in the gossip columns. It inevitably means the kids are working in the same movie — and the gossip item invariably publicizes the picture as well as the pair. But it sounds serious for Barry Coe and Judi Meredith of Fox-TV's stable: she took him to Oregon over the Christmas holidays to meet her parents.

MGMuttering: "Those so-called 'happy' families in the situation comedies on TV impress me as being the most ill-witted, overbearing, loud-mouthed creatures in creation but I gotta say this for them — I've never caught any of them watching TV."

Board Delays Sales Tax Action

After a confusing discussion this week of the status of the Bradley-Burns sales tax program in this county, during which motions were made, amended and withdrawn, the Board of Supervisors decided to delay taking any action for another week.

"I've no objection to a week's delay," declared Supervisor Fred McCall, "but next week I will make a motion that we reaffirm our intention to discontinue the sales program unless all cities donate ten per cent of the tax collected within their boundaries."

IT WAS SUPERVISOR William Jones who initiated the discussion by insisting that the Palm Springs offer to donate five per cent for a period of six months should be spelled out in black and white.

"The five per cent should be tied down," declared Jones, "and furthermore it should be clearly understood that Palm Springs will give ten per cent, the same as other cities, if it is proved by Board of Equalization records of tax receipts in Palm Springs that the city can afford to make the same percentage donation as the other cities."

Palm Springs has so far been exempted from making any donation because of its contention that it could not afford to do so, but recently offered to donate five per cent as a compromise.

JONES FIRST MADE a motion to accept the five percent from Palm Springs for six months with the understanding that the amount would then be increased to ten per cent if Board of Equalization figures prove the availability of such a donation from tax receipts under the Bradley-Burns program.

Failing to get a second to his motion, Jones then moved for an amendment to the ordinance which regulates the tax program, providing for addition of a minimum of five per cent by Palm Springs. Again, he failed to get a second.

"I'M AGAINST accepting the five per cent," declared Supervisor Fred McCall. "We've said we would not accept less than ten per cent from any city in the county. Are we backing down? Aren't we going to stand by our decisions? There's one thing I would go along with today, and that is to discontinue the Bradley-Burns sales tax."

"Acceptance of the five per cent would only be for six months by my proposal," said Jones.

"I'LL GO ALONG with five per cent for 30 days," said McCall.

"Palm Springs has been getting a free ride," said Jones. "Hard feelings will continue if they don't contribute the same as other cities. Now that I think about it, the State Board of Equalization figures are available now, so there really isn't any reason to give Palm Springs six months to reach a determination."

He then made a motion to amend the ordinance to provide for a five per cent contribution by Palm Springs for 60 days, thereby allowing only 60 days for Palm Springs to determine whether they will increase the percentage to ten per cent. Once more, he failed to get a second.

"ANY OTHER ACTION than to tie down the five per cent payment by Palm Springs for six months, in accordance with their offer, will throw rocks in the machinery," declared Supervisor Paul Anderson.

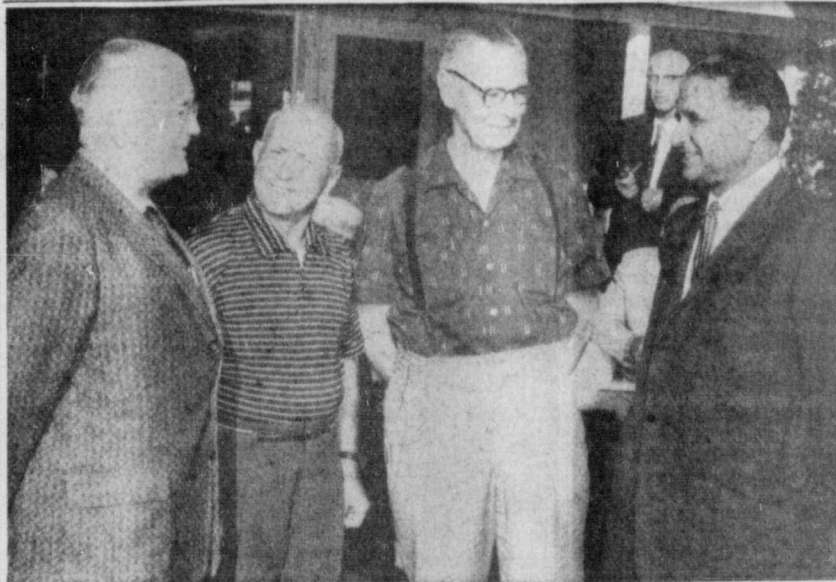

"The Palm Springs offer has resulted from an attempt by the cities to work things out. Corona has apparently agreed to continue giving ten per cent for the same six months period. We should go along with this effort by the cities. We shouldn't block them so we can't accept something reasonable. I for one do not want to close the door to negotiations."

SUPERVISOR GEORGE Berkey agreed with Supervisor Anderson. They both expressed the opinion that any change would in any event have to be made at the end of a quarterly period. They contended that the 6-day period proposed by Supervisor Jones would be less than the quarterly basis of the state and would not be feasible.

County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr. observed that the board has received no report from either the Palm Springs or Corona city councils as to actions they are reported to have taken last week. "All we have is newspaper reports of what they have done," he declared. "The reports may be true, but if Corona is adopting a policy we should know what it is, word for word. I presume a copy will come to us, when their action is final. At the moment we are struggling with something the exact details of which we are not informed."

SUPERVISOR JONES then withdrew his last motion. "I'm willing to delay this for a week," he said. "There seems to be confusion."

Discussion of current legislation and proposals earmarked for the 86th Congress was led by Congressman Saund and Lt. Col. Floyd Oles, USAR, Ret., of Tacoma, Wash.

Officers attending the meeting were Lt. Col. Russell W. Curtis and Lt. Col. George A. Palmros, of Riverside; Lt. Col. Daniel H. McCauley, of 1580 Mesquite Avenue; Col. D. A. Maurier, of 573 Calle Palo Ferro.

SAUND WITHOUT ATLAS—HE USES THE DESERT SUN

President Eisenhower has the services of the huge, 4½-ton Atlas satellite to carry his New Year's greeting in its orbit around the earth, but U.S. Congressman D. S. Saund yesterday decided to rely on The Desert Sun to get his best wishes off to constituents in the desert area.

The 29th Congressional Representative said that he hoped the New Year would bring greater "hope for peace and good will among all nations" and wished "one and all a happy New Year."

He instructed that the Desert Sun carry that message in its "orbit" throughout the Palm Springs-Desert Empire area.

softly. "But I've got a good reason. I've been to Israel."

Jessel makes it clear when he speaks that he's talking for the State of Israel. He says he's simply trying to interest investors in a "good bet" for their capital.

"WE'VE GOT ANOTHER responsibility in this nation, too," the dean of American showmen declared. "There's that business about democratic principles and helping little nations to help themselves."

So far, he's convinced people to the tune of about $39,000,000 dollars personally.

He ordered a luncheon at the Racquet Club, detected a Teutonic tone in his waiter's accent, and promptly ordered the rest of his meal in German. He also speaks French, Italian and Yiddish and, although he hasn't tried his hand at it, would like to embark on an Israel Bond drive in Germany, France or Italy — "just to see if I could do it."

"I SPEAK VERY little Hebrew," he lamented, "but I'm studying it now."

"Don't laugh. (David) Ben-Gurion learned Greek after he was 70. I'm not too old to learn."

Jessel said that 1958 was "my biggest year yet" but thinks that 1959 might be even better.

At a time when most men are five years into retirement, Jessel launched an hour-long daily television show on an independent Los Angeles station that turned into one of the Southland's ten-best watched programs. This year, Jessel plans to film a half-hour of it and furnish it to the more than 50 stations across the country that have asked him for it.

AND ON FRIDAY, Jessel himself will be a guest on another famous person's program — Ed Murrow's "Person to Person."

"He's going to spend 15 minutes in my house," Jessel said. "And we're going to talk about some of the people I know and love."

Most of the show will be aired from the spacious living room of Jessel's Santa Monica home, a living room that pictures Truman, Roosevelt, Churchill, Baruch, Tolson, Pat Brown, Dr. Jonas Salk, Cardinal Spellman, Rabbi Wise and a host of other giants in their fields.

But it's things like the Murrow program — "I wouldn't turn it down for anything" — that keep Jessel from doing even more.

"I'VE GOT THREE books in works now," he said. "There's

More Slaughter On U.S. Roads For New Year's

United Press International Authorities brace for the long New Year's holiday today, hoping to hold the traffic toll below the nearly 600 fatalities chalked up during the long Christmas week-end.

A final United Press International count showed traffic killed 599 persons during the 102-hour Christmas holiday.

THE TOLL FELL below the 620 deaths estimated by the National Safety Council and was well under the Christmas holiday death record of 712 set in 1956.

However, the count was 119 higher than the normal 480 traffic deaths — which could be expected for a non-holiday period of the same duration at this time of year.

CALIFORNIA HAD the highest traffic toll with 60. It was followed by 46 in Texas, 38 in Illinois, 34 in New York, 27 in Ohio, 25 each in Florida, North Carolina and Pennsylvania, 22 in Michigan, 19 in Indiana, 18 in Missouri and Virginia, 16 in Massachusetts, 15 in Georgia, and 14 in New Mexico and Wisconsin.

Davis-Roether Vows Recited at Friday Night Ceremony

White candles flickered on the altar and were reflected in the Christmas decorations at Community Church Friday night as Nancy June Roether, daughter of Mrs. Richard Roether of Palm Desert and Arthur Hastman of Cleveland, and Jerry Davies were married in the presence of their immediate families. The young couple recited their vows before Rev. James Blackstone.

The bride wore a wedding gown of traditional white, with a small crown holding her fingertip veil, and carried a white orchid bouquet. She was attended by her mother Mrs. Roether, who wore a taffeta gown of deep blue and a shoulder bouquet of baby vandas. Carroll Davies of Rancho Mirage acted as best man for his son.

Following the ceremony there was a champagne wedding dinner at the Tennis Club. The bride is a graduate of Palm Springs High School, Class of 1957, and is employed at Thunderbird Country Club. The bridegroom was attending Palm Springs High School when he enlisted in the United States Navy. He is stationed aboard the USS Lexington.

The bride's grandmother Mrs. A. L. Fiedges was here for the wedding.

Dear Friends:

It doesn't have to be New Years for us to think of our good friends—but the New Year does give us the opportunity to pause and express our appreciation for your friendship and patronage.

It is folks like you who make our business possible and serving you is always a pleasure. It is a pleasure, too, to pause and say "Thank You" and extend a warm wish that you may have a happy prosperous New Year.

A della robbia tree of fruits and nuts centered the canape table Monday night, when the Sydney Schiffs took over the Racquet Club's Mural Room for their annual holiday party. On either end of the table sparkling branches, sprayed with silver dust, blinked tiny, flower-like blue lights.

The hostess received in a stunning black gown from Jacques Griffe of Paris that complimented her red hair. Recently arrived from Chicago to join his wife who arrived earlier to occupy their Racquet Club bungalow.

Among the many guests were the Mel Eatons, H. H. Ridders, Co. Thorntons, Jack Blighs, Asher Levys, Edward Smalls, Victor Nemeroffs, Edwin Silvermans, Arthur Jarwoods, Ernie Alschulers, Richard Bagdasarian, Burnham Bigelows, Maurice Horners, A. R. Winter Resort Wear Modeled at El Mirador Style Luncheon

Models paraded resort styles from Lillian Agar, Waltah Clarke's Hawaiian shops and Rasmussen's during the luncheon hour at El Mirador on Monday. Opening the show were that cute pair of youngsters Candy Lee and Judy Ann, wearing red mandarin jackets and white pants and twirling matching red parasols.

Paulette Adams was striking in white hat, boots, satin shirt worn with blue culottes with white leather fringe. Beside the typical western wear for which Rasmussen is noted, there were several squaw dresses, one in a sky blue polished cotton that combined the shirt maker look with the popular squaw dress.

Lydia Kimberly modeled a Waltah Clarke muumuu with a butterfly back, and this collection of sun styles from Hawaii also offered bright - patterned bathing suits.

A John Carter gown from Lillian Agar was of imported black lace over a peacock blue sheath, fitted at the waist with a small cummerbund and fastened over the shoulders with spaghetti straps.

There was elegant detail in a beige silk organza, of imported embroidered fabric, worn by Laurie Robinson, and in the black sheath that was made dramatic by floating lattice streamers fastened at the hem. Among other models, all from John Robert Powers, were Ruby Allen, Patty O'Quinn. Shoes, matched to the outfits, were from Sam Bork's and the complementary jewelry from Jolie Gabor. Alyce Walker from radio station KCMJ, commented the luncheon showing.

U.S. Regains Davis Cup on Olmedo Win

Peruvian Upsets Cooper to Return Cup to Americans

By ERIC RIEL
BRISBANE, Australia — (UPI) — Alex (The Chief) Olmedo, a Peruvian on loan to the United States Davis Cup team, whipped Australia's tennis monopolists almost single-handedly and the Yanks reclaimed the famed mug today by winning the challenge round, three matches to two.

Olmedo clinched the best-of-five series for the U.S. by out-classing Ashley Cooper, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6. Then, with the Cup already in American hands, more than 18,000 groaning fans watched Mal Anderson turn back Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, 7-5, 13-11, 11-9 in a "who cares" final match.

THE YANKS' stunning victory will go down as one of the greatest upsets in the 58-year history of the challenge round. The odds were stacked high against them when the matches began Monday, for Australia had won the Cup seven times in the last eight years and had kept it "down under" since 1955.

But now the cherished trophy—symbol of world amateur tennis supremacy—is headed back to the States. And all the credit belongs to Olmedo, a fearless netman with Indian blood in his veins who tomahawked Australia's greatest stars with cool deliberation.

THE 22-YEAR-OLD student at Southern California had a hand in all three American victories. He spanked Anderson in Monday's opening singles match and then teamed with Hamilton Richardson to win Tuesday's doubles match and give the U.S. a 2-1 lead.

However, the chief saved his most devastating tennis for Cooper, who had defeated MacKay on opening day.

COOPER WON the Wimbledon and U.S. titles this year and generally is regarded as the world's greatest amateur player. But he didn't score Olmedo, who zipped to a 3-0 lead in the opening set and won that one without working up a sweat.

The Aussie rallied to win the second set but Olmedo again started fast in the third, winning the first four games Cooper eventually reduced his deficit to 4-5, then fought off three set points in the 10th game before Olmedo banged home a slow drop-shot that eluded his rival's reach.

NOW OLMEDO needed only one more set for victory. With the score tied 6-6 in the fourth set, the chief broke Cooper's service when the Aussie suffered his 11th double-fault of the match and then closed it out with a love game on his delivery.

Ex-Giant Player Dies in New York

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. — (UPI) — Glenn Spencer, former pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Giants, died Thursday at the age of 53.

Officer Refuses to Cite Speeding Motorist
PALM DESERT, Dec. 20—Frederick T. Clearwater, 230 Avenida Suena, apparently in a fit of enthusiasm, drove his family 85 miles per hour to show them the beautiful new El Dorado Palms Estates, bordering Indian Wells Golf Course. The arresting officer offered two valid reasons for his refusal to cite Clearwater: "First, I've seen El Dorado Palms Estates and well understand his enthusiasm. My brother-in-law." Remember, you don't need influence to see beautiful El Dorado Palms Estates. Simply call your realtor and drive over. Slowly, of course.—ADV.

Tennis Clinic Moves From Tamarisk to High School

Relocation of the Palm Springs Tennis Clinic from Tamarisk Park to the Palm Springs High School—a move made necessary by a doubling of enrollment in the popular instruction—was announced yesterday by City Recreation Director Howard Haddock.

Haddock made his announcement in conjunction with a similar notice from Junior Chamber of Commerce President Frank Allen. The Jaycee will assume sponsorship with the Recreation Department and, Allen said, Village service clubs will also participate "actively" in the sponsorship program. The Desert Sun had been sponsor previously.

UNDER THE JOINT sponsorship of the city and the newspaper, the clinic grew from a 40-person turnout at its inception to an active, 82-person group.

David Gilliam of the Racquet Club, instructor in the clinic, said yesterday that Mr. and Mrs. Seamus Nunn will continue to aid in the tennis instruction (he is coach of the Palm Springs High School tennis team), and that Haddock had indicated the City of Palm Springs would also furnish a coach.

THE CLINIC WILL continue to be conducted from 9-11 a. m., each Saturday, but at its new location.

Expense Slash?

NCAA May Vote Rule Tightening

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — The tightening of eligibility rules and possible curtailment of expenses to prospective athletes in prep schools are two of the major proposals the National Collegiate Athletic Association will consider at its meeting beginning here Sunday.

More than 2,200 representatives from colleges and universities throughout the nation are expected to attend the 53rd annual meeting, which will last a week.

SEVEN OTHER national athletic groups also will hold their meetings during the NCAA sessions. The American Football Coaches Association will hold its 36th annual convention during the week, and other organizations scheduled to meet are the American Association of College Baseball Coaches; the National Collegiate Track Coaches Association; College Athletic Business Managers Association.

Jungle Dancer In Anita Stakes

ARCADIA (UPI) — Jungle Dancer heads a classy field of 11 2-year-olds entered in today's $15,000-added Los Feliz Stakes at Santa Anita Park.

None of the 2-year-olds competing in the 6 1/2-furlong event had won a stakes before today, but most of them are nominees for the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby next March.

Finsterwald Hot In Open Prelim

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Dow Finsterwald, national PGA champion and one of the top money winners in the game for the last half dozen years, looked like the favorite today as the nation's top golfers awaited the tee-off in the $4,000 Los Angeles Open on Friday.

No Handicap for a Jollans in Sunday Rematch

A "grudge match" between the La Jolla and Eldorado polo teams who last Sunday played a 9-8 thriller with the locals winning—will be held at 2 p. m., Sunday, on the Eldorado Polo Fields.

"This time," Eldorado Captain Tevis declared, "we're going to play them without a handicap." The La Jolla team, with a one-goal spot last Sunday, actually led one point, in the sixth and final sucker, by an 8-7 count.

IF THE LA JOLLANS' full team on hand this Sunday, experts have pointed out, the Eldorado team may need a handicap themselves. Missing from the visitor's lineup last week were Ted Pierce and Willis Allen, both highly-regarded players in West Coast polo ranks. Combined with Todd Heller (who scored twice last Sunday) and Alan Scherer (who registered three goals for the losers), Stephens and Judy Allen in Palm Springs present a formidable four.

Other totals included:

40-50: Andrea Edwards, Lloyd Chaisir, Dale Fritz.
30-40: Susan Elliott, Nicki Walt, Carol Bremer, Noel Hendrickson, Susan Sioftr, Sandra Clark, Beth Stevens, Shelly Coffey.
20-30: Stephanie Smith, Sandra Henwood, Pamela Mathburn, Sally Stonover, Sally Elliott, Penny Prickett, Deed Backstrom.
10-20: Karen Knutsen, Melinda Bovee.
0-10: Patti Gilligan, George Jump, Brian Edwards, Pat Clark.

In any event, they opine, Sunday's fray at the Polo Fields should be another rip-snorter. All eight players tentatively scheduled to ride in the "grudge match" side hard and fast, the mounts are uniformly good and the field is in top shape.

That's good news for polo fans, who probably wouldn't mind seeing last Sunday's thriller all over again.

THE YEAR 1958 SAW many champions, many new stars, but it also saw the deaths of some well-known, well-loved sports personalities. Above are a dozen of the persons whose death left sore hearts and revived memories years gone by.

NFL Attendance Up

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The National Football League's 1958 attendance rose 5.96 per cent from 1957 and soared to 3,066,124—first time the league topped 3-million mark. NFL attendance in 1957 was 2,836,319.

Iowa 18 1/2-Point Rose Bowl Choice Cal Gridders Ired by Game Odds

100,000 To View RB Tilt

By HAL WOOD
LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Iowa and California, two of the 1958 collegiate gridiron giants, clash in the Rose Bowl Thursday with the Hawkeyes from the Big Ten Conference rated at 18 1/2-point favorites to smash the Pacific Coast Conference representative again.

Both coaches announced tentative starting lineups and the "hay was in the barn" as far as training, conditioning and practice was concerned.

"WE'RE AS READY as we can get," said coach Pete Elliott of the underdog Golden Bears. "We expect to give them a battle—but I won't come out and predict a victory."

His players, however, were more optimistic. They were hollering and singing as they finished their final workout—and the general opinion was that "we didn't come here to get beat."

COACH FOREST Evashevski of Iowa was "gloomy" after the Hawkeyes' final workout. "It wasn't good," said Evey. However.

GOLDEN BEARS FORECAST FOR 'THRILLER' PLAY

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — California may not win the Rose Bowl game—but the odds favor the Golden Bears coming up with some sort of play that sends a tingling shiver down the spine and goes into the record books as one of the "greatest of all time."

Why?

Of all the Rose Bowl "great plays" three stand out:

1. The one in which Doyle Nave of Southern California threw a touchdown pass to Al Krueger in the final seconds to defeat Duke in the 1939 game.

2. The one in which Roy Reigals of California ran the wrong way to give Georgia Tech an 8-7 upset victory in 1929.

3. The one in which end Harold Brick Muller of California threw a pass of indeterminate distance to Brodie Stephens to help the Bears to a 28-0 win over Ohio State in 1921.

THE thousands of Iowa rooters who have flocked into this area aren't worried.

Kick-off time is 2 p. m. and more than 100,000 will jam the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. Weather forecast is fair and warm with the temperature expected to be in the 70s.

The probable lineups were no surprise. Both coaches used just about the same men they have had in action all season.

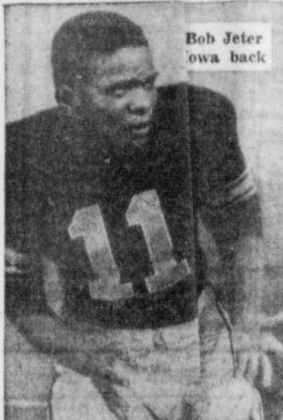

"But my lineup is subject to a late revision," said Elliott as he announced his starters.

THE BIG TEN HAS won 11 of the 12 bowl engagements since the two conferences engaged in the pact "to protect football."

The 1960 game will be the last under the present contract—although there is some hope that another agreement may be made between the Big Ten and West Coast schools.

The battle shapes up as a starring vehicle for one of two men: quarterback Joe Kapp, the pass-run option artist for the Golden Bears, or Iowa's Randy Duncan.

ROSE BOWL'S 45TH rene tomorrow will pit these outstanding gridirers (test that will end the post-season rivalry bet the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast Conference) and the Sugar Bowl tussle at New Orleans, where a crowd of 80,000 is anticipated.

The men who make the odds claim the Orange Bowl game at Miami, Fla., should be one-sided too, with Oklahoma 9-1 a 13-point choice over Syracuse 8-1. Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder summed up the Sooners perfectly: "Texas Christian and the U. S. Air Force Academy were expected to participate in the closest game of the day at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Tex. Texas Christian 8-2 is "only" an eight-point favorite over the Air Force 9-0-1 will be too tough for California though a recent snow could there the Hawkeyes have snake the field soggy and throw men as Bob Jeter, Willie Fleming quoted odds out of kilter.

You Have Purchased Many Millions of Dollars Since 1952!

My SPECIAL THANKS to Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association

A great financial institution that makes it possible for everybody to become a home owner in America's foremost desert resort.

CITY OFFICIALS

Particularly "Pete" Peterson, Jerry Bunker, "Hy" Raines and Frank Hamerschlag, and our Chief Building Inspector, Jack Sanders, Lane, Betz, Herzog, Barbara, and the bunch. We really have a great crowd at the City Hall.

CRAFTSMAN

Starting from Curtis and Hiram Gordon who formed and poured the foundations; and plasterers like Stokbak and Vasquez; "Shorty" Knupp, electrical contractor; Oasis Plumbing; Johnny Gallerani; Don's Air Conditioning Co. who guarantee to give you comfort both summer and winter; right up to the roofer like Melton.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS

All members of the Multiple Listing Offices, who have assisted George Gannon in the sale of these homes

And a Special Thanks to George Gannon

Without you none of the above would have been accomplished. Your help has been greatly appreciated. Also, thanks to all of your associates, who have aided so nobly in this tremendous success.

SINCERELY

Smith Named To State CofC Group

Now Member
Of Recreation
Travel Committee

William H. Smith, president, Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association, Palm Springs, has been appointed to the Travel and Recreation Committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce, it was announced this week by Ben P. Griffith, regional vice president of the statewide organization.

Smith, who lives at 555 Grenfall Road, Palm Springs, is active in civic affairs and is vice president and a director of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce. He has been with the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association for 10 years.

PAST DIRECTOR of the California Savings and Loan League, Smith has been active in both state and national organizations in the savings and loan field. He also is a member of the Palm Springs Rotary Club.

The State Chamber's Travel and Recreation Committee devotes its attention to fullest possible development of California's recreational resources. Recently, the group re-activated a subcommittee which is currently undertaking to promote particularly the desert area, in cooperation with local organizations.

THE COMMITTEE brings together business leaders interested in the travel and resort industry to solve mutual problems and to plan for the proper growth of travel and recreation in California.

"The problems facing commerce, agriculture, and industry are complex and must be given careful study. Our regional committees consider and make recommendations on these vital state and national issues. It is essential that experienced men of Mr. Smith's caliber take part in our travel and recreation activities. I anticipate his participation will greatly assist our State Chamber program," Griffith said.
